Bruce Kennedy will show us how to use your smart phone camera for fun and seriously good images.

Saturday Workshops

April 6: Macro Photography - Larry Jewett

This macro workshop is to make members familiar with the terms commonly used and to understand what these terms mean in planning and obtaining images. We will see a variety of ways to achieve different levels of magnification and the drawbacks of each. The transition from handheld, general photography to the restricted demands of macro will be addressed.

Notices for workshops are sent to each member and you may register for these sessions online.

The 2013 Audio Visual Festival

Sat. April 13th, 7:00pm at the Burlington Arts Centre.

The Latow Photographers Guild holds an annual Audio Visual Festival of shows created by photographers from inside and outside the Guild. This Festival is unique in the GTA and is a highlight of the year in the audio-visual community. The shows presented are integrating images and audio in unique and imaginative ways and are intended as a showcase for the AV medium. Tickets: $10 in advance or at the door.

Plan on attending the Festival which includes work from our own Marcus Miller.

From the Executive Committee

The work of the Executive Committee lately has centred on preparing things for a new executive in June 2013 (e.g. proposals for changes in the organization, draft revisions to the club's constitution.) As usual, a number of team leaders will be moving on (or up) and replacements have been found for most positions -- but there are still some openings for leaders and especially for team members. Contact Bob Warren throughvpbw@mississaugacameraclub.ca if you want to be considered.

OUTINGS: We have initiated what we expect will be a series of short Hosted Outings (really just pick-up shooting sessions) in Mississauga and nearby. We hope to have one such get-together almost every week from now on -- some on weekends and some on week days -- on a wide variety of topics. These will be announced via email. We will not be able to help members find transportation to these shoots. A few of these outings will be to venues which have admission charges and may require signup in advance in order to obtain a good group rate.
